Going to Homeopathic Hospital in Boston as Superintendent-Will Not Leave Here Until February.

Conditions which Dr. H. M. Pollock named in case he were to accept an in-vitation to become superintendent of the Massachusetts Homeopathic hos-pital at Boston were met by the trusees of that hospital at a meeting they neld on Tuesday afternoon, and Dr. Pollock is to leave the Norwich state nospital next February to take the new osition in Boston. Having had the invitation to take the loston position under consideration, or Pollock had told the Homeopathic or. Follock had told the Homeopathic nospital trustees that he would accept f he were allowed to remain at the Norwich state hospital until February. First the trustees in Boston have agreed to.

The invitation to the new place, which will be at the head of the largest nstitution of its kind in the country, with a salary considerably more than e one he is now getting, came to Dr. ollock at a time when he particularly sired to stay here to see certain plans which he is interested worked out, mong these is the inauguration of the tate farm for inebriates which is to be given its initial trial in connection with the state hospital under the guiding eye of Dr. Pollock. That he would be available to put the experiment into operation was one of the factors that operated in deciding the state authorities to make the experiment and head of the control of the les to make the experiment, and he has been anxious to carry on the work. There are also other developments at he state hospital that he wants to see arried well along before he gives up

CITY TAX OF 11 3-4 MILLS

Voted by 500 Citizens in Annual Meeting-$9,000 for Combination Pumping and Chemical Engine Voted-$500 for Band Concert and $500 for Playgrounds Were the Only Other Extras-Recommended Appropriations Went Through at Amounts Asked for.

The total estimated amounts voted were $528,003.39, making a city tax of 11 3-4 mills on the grand list of $13,-329,284 necessary, as there are estimated receipts of $371,381.27, leaving $156,-622.12 to be raised by tax.

Mayor T. C. Murphy called the meeting to order at 8 o'clock with City Clerk Arthur G. Crowell keeping the minutes and City Sheriff Charles W. Burton on hand in charge of the ballot

Mayor Gives Financial Status.

Mayor Murphy said that before taking up the business he wanted to give a financial statement of the city. He spoke as follows: spoke as follows:
Gentlemen: Before acting on the estimates that are before you tonight, I deem it my duty as mayor to present to you the financial condition of the city. The finance committee in making up the estimates have carefully considered each item you are to approve or disapprove tonight, and they could not recommend for your approval a 10 mill tax, which was and has been recommended for several years past. I want it distinctly understood that in making these remarks before your action on the estimates that I personelly have no intention of interfering in any way on any of the estimates presented to you to act upon. This matter rests with you, and you alone. In looking over past records, I find that in seven years from May 16, 1907, to May 15, 1914, the city made and failed to pay temporary loans authorized at city meetings amounting to mill tax, which was and has been ized at city meetings amounting to $68,000, thereby increasing the floating debt of the city that amount. A desire to avoid increasing the floating debt by another $20,000 is the sole reason for asking that the $20,000 of last year's unpaid loans be paid this year, as recommended in the estimates. The mayor's explanation of temporary loans, current and arrears, and the proposed payment of them was as fol-

Alderman Henry Gebrath replied that there was $1,200 in this item for the widening of Sachem street. The $22,000 was voted:

and $3,000 for outside work.

When the item of $7,000 for garbage and ashes came up, W. W. Beckwith asked if this included the cost of teams and if the cost of garbage and ashes collection were not really $11,000. He read from the printed copy of the journal and asked Alderman Gebrath, who had made an answer to his other question, to explain how it was that 10 men working 30 days in June were paid $599 and the same number of men vorking the same number of days were paid $484 in August, according to the street commissioner's report. He said that the same discrepancies occur in other places in 1913-1914, and he moved that the appropriation be made $5,500. Alderman Gebrath stated that you couldn't take care of the garbage for that amount, because of long hauls through the abolishing of dumping Mr. Beckwith's next statement was tion that the work could be done for $5,500, if the men went to their work $5,500, if the men went to their work made in water supply and fire apparatus time and were kept at their work. Felix Callahan was also loudly ap-plauded when he said he challenged the truth of any statement about the work of the men on the ash carts and said that if we wanted economy let's get after the high salaried officials and not the hardest working gang in Norwich, and Alderman Gebrath also defended

Walter F, Lester said he believed the work could not be done for $5,500, and it would be poor policy to economize at the risk of health of the city. Alderman Casper K, Balley spoke of men getting out askes at 5.30 in the morn-could former Canadian Lohn Baring, and former Councilman John Barry said he had seen ashmen dumping ashes at 5.30 in the evening. Timothy Gallivan said it was 4.30 when they got out his ashes, and another man said it was 5 o'clock at his house.

The adjourned annual city meeting, held in the town hall on Tuesday evening with an attendance of about 500 men, voted the appropriations that had been recommended by the finance committee of the common council and added thereto three items from the so-called extras that were included in the call for the meeting.

These three items, $500 each for band concerts and the Playgrounds association and $9,000 for a combination pumping and chemical engine for the fire department, were the only ones of the $52,030 of extras that were voted. All the rest were indefinitely post-poned.

The sum of $465 was voted for the Elmwood avenue sewer, and these amounts were voted. Cemetery department, $7,500; fire department, $36,000; police department, salaries and general expense, $27,945; city court, $3,800; street lighting, $20,000, which is $1,000 more than last year; new lights, $1,000; health department, $1,500; gas and electric department, operating and general expenses, $133,000, which is $10,000 less than interest park department, $5,000.

For Finance Department.

Mayor Murphy explained that the contingent, $9,816.55.

Mayor Murphy explained that the $20,000 asked for temporary loan was occasioned by the smaller receipts of the gas and electric department last ear. This was in response to a ques-ion from Frank H. Smith. Corporation Counsel Joseph T. Fanning explained that one reason for the emporary loans being $90,000 this year was the change in interest dates on the bonds making it necessary to borrow more in advance of the col-lection of the tax.

Action on Extras.

The first of the extras was $1,000 or the municipal dock on Rose place and Henry G. Peck asked for an explanation if this was a necessary expenditure. After a brief explanation by Mayor Murphy the matter was indefinitely postponed.

The $8,53% for Thames square and Thames street paving was laid on the table on a viva voca vote, which the mayor called for three times before he could decide that the "ayes" had it. John H. Barnes spoke for the sum of $5,100 for widening Main street between land of M. Hourigan and land of Dr. P. Cassidy. Alderman Bailey spoke against it, and Charles D. Noves advocated the expenditure on the advocated the expenditure on the ground that this was a very desirable public improvement that could be done for a nominal sum. Ashley T. Boon inquired what was to be done with the Trinity church and the Dime Savings bank property.

Mr. Boon advocated economy to keep the tax down the tax down.

$1,000 Voted. $500 for band concerts and $500 for playgrounds association were voted. W. W. Beckwith spoke briefly advo-cating the band concerts.

For Auto Pumping Engine. When the item of $9,000 for a com-pination autochemical pumping and themical engine was reached, former Mayor F. L. Osgood was on his feet, but before the mayor had seen him William H. Murphy had moved to lay the matter on the table.

The mayor said that he thought the meeting ought in fairness to give a hearing to any one who wanted a chance to speak, although this motion were note debateable, but Mr. Murphy said no debate had been allowed n other cases. When the motion to lay on the ta-ble was put it was lost, while the cit-zens applauded. Then ex-Mayor Osgood stated that for four years he had been in the mayor's position and that stood for economy, but he felt that the combin-ation pumping and chemical engine was a thing we needed. Not everyone in the city had his house or property located where there is a sufficient water pressure. Many live on the hills and we ought to give them all possible protection, He moved the appropriation Former Alderman Joseph D. Haviland spoke in favor of the appropriation, mentioning ar perience that had been made on Hill with a pumping engine which raised a 25 Agnes R. C. rectory at 141 East 43rd

Ex-Mayor Osgood spoke again and Walter F. Lester presented the point that the business district might also be jeopardized by a loss in pressure applauded when he said that the teams return to the barn at 11 o'clock and stay until 1 o'clock and team after team comes back at 4 o'clock. What we need in this city is an economist. He had been informed, he said, by a man who was familiar with the situation that the work could be done for any improvements that would be there at such a time. He said he believed that the fire boards were now in a position to give the city credit for any improvements that would be prevail.

These remarks also brought out applause. Ashley T. Boon also advocated the pumping engine.

Alderman Casper K. Bailey spoke with appreciation of what the fire department did at the fire recently adoining his building and advocated the purchase of the pumping engine. The motion was carried amid applause.

Tax of 11 3-4 Mills Laid.

The city tax of 11 3-4 mills, which was 4-3 of a mill more than the finance committee of the common council had recommended, was laid, and the tax collector's compensation was fixed at 1 per cent. of the amount collected. A list of tax abatements was voted without the names being read, and the meeting adjourned at 9.30 o'clock. WEDDINGS, Luce-Park.

INSURANCE COMPANIES

WANT ACT REPEALED Connecticut Companies Say They Already Pay Taxes Enough,

Insurance companies throughout Connecticut are up in arms over the additional tax imposed upon them, together with other corporations and public utilities, by an act of the last egislature, which under section 21 of the act exacts an added tax of onehalf of one per cent, on the market value of each share of the capital stock of all insurance companies in the state, In view of alleged heavy taxes already paid by insurance corporations, they declare the new demands amount practically to extertion and are entering upon a statewide campaign to have that part of the act affecting them repealed through the activities of the stockholders and interested public urging that in the end the real dic, urging that in the end the real burden of the tax must almost nnev-ltably be shared by the public. The very sudden demise of at least seven insurance companies under way of organization, three of which received their charters at the recent ses-sion of the legislature, is attributed solely to the additional tax which it is declared amounts in effect to an increase of 50 per cent, or more over the present heavy impost in the state. The insurance men urge that in-surance interests have brought more fame and money to the state of Connecticut than any other branch of business, and they have contributed more liberally to its maintenance in the way gift of her father.

Mr. and Mrs. Luce left town after the reception. The wedding journey will include a trlp to Niagara Falls, Canada and the Thousand Islands. They will be at home after Dec. 1st.
